REVIEWS

Martha Cares possesses a clear, well focused soprano voice...

Cares has the ability to characterize her songs and project the personality of that character from the stage. She also has the ability to mix the styles of pop, Broadway and classical singing, and that is not an easy task to accomplish.”

Robert Dure, HERALD ARGUS

“... the tempestuous Musetta, sung by Martha Cares...

Cares distilled the frivolity and sensuality of her character to just the right consistency.”

Jon F. Eiche, MILWAUKEE SENTINEL

“Martha Cares’ Zerlina was fine...Cares’ portrayal had a melting warmth.”

Wynne Delacoma, CHICAGO SUN TIMES

“Martha Cares’ Musetta is in common parlance, a stitch. Her second act flirtations almost bring the house down.”

Paul Gerard, MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

“Surely the trimmest opera singer in America, Cares both acted and sang her way throughout the evening’s selections. ... ”Til There Was You” from THE MUSIC MAN, a love song that in her hands was as sentimental and moving as the composer could ever have hoped... and and nearly bringing down the house with a terrifically moving solo performance of “O mio babbino caro” from GIANNI SCHICCHI.

James Vance, TULSA WORLD
